Overview

Now in its 17th season, the Pioneer Valley Jewish Film Festival is a community-based arts festival that features over a week of award-winning, entertaining and thought-provoking films that explore the best of independent cinema through a distinctly Jewish lens.

Each spring, PVJFF screens a diverse mix of critically acclaimed films from around the world, reaching enthusiastic audiences in venues across Western Massachusetts. Visiting filmmakers, receptions, panel discussions and other special events provide unique opportunities for community engagement and networking.

Targeted Exposure

Partner with the Pioneer Valley Jewish Film Festival and you will:

- Reach tens of thousands of highly-educated, well-informed and culturally-engaged community members
- Gain visibility with a desirable consumer demographic
- Achieve broad exposure across a three-county region with direct mail, print collateral and web marketing
- Connect your organization with the largest Jewish cultural event in Western Massachusetts
- Play a vital role in supporting the Pioneer Valley's vibrant arts scene

Range of Opportunities

- Become a sponsor. There are many sponsorship levels to consider. Packages include print and web benefits, on-site name recognition and broad regional exposure.
- Purchase advertising. We have rates for full, half, and quarter page ads in the PVJFF Film Guide, which is mailed to 4,000 households.
- Choose other ways to be recognized. You can sponsor a reception, organize a special event, or provide an in-kind product or service.
- Become a donor. We welcome tax-deductible contributions of any amount. You will be recognized in the Film Guide and on the website.

Contact

Please contact us to discuss a film festival sponsorship package that best fits your organization. For more information, visit our website at pvjff.org. Thank you for your consideration!
